

6516206089.txt

I feel that people have the right to local content provided by satellite radio. It was not long ago that satellite tv was begging for the right to provide local channels. They eventually won the right to do just this. My home city of Jacksonville is not one of the cities that has local content, but I still feel that satellite radio has the right to broadcast. This is a first amendment right that should be enforced by Congress.